

Knot Springs

Member Wristband Policy

Proof of Membership

You must present and wear your valid membership wristband at all times while on club premises. Membership privileges are limited to the person in whose name the membership and wristband is issued to. Improper use of the membership or membership wristband and will result in immediate termination of membership. Improper uses includes:

- allowing another person to use your membership or membership identity,
- allowing access to any area of Knot Springs, including the Springs, Burl Gym, Restorative Studio, Member Lounge, Treatment or Foot Rub areas to non-members without following proper check in procedures at the Reception desk,
- giving your wristband to someone else so they can use the facilities, including both members and non-members.

Lost or Stolen Wristbands

If a member loses their wristband, they must report it to the staff immediately so the lost wristband can be deactivated and a new wristband can be issued for a fee of $50/wristband. No member will be allowed into the club without their wristband. Wristbands can not be shared among members.

Loaner Wristbands issued by Knot Springs

If a member forgets wristband, they will be required to check in at the 3rd street reception and obtain a day-use wristband for their visit. This wristband must be returned at the end of the member's visit that day, or else they will be charged a non-refundable $50 fee.

Termination/Expiration of Membership

When a member decides to end their membership to the Knot Springs, they must return their wristband to reception on or before their final day. Failure to return wristband will result in a non-refundable $50 fee.
